Ohio Senate OKs Bill Hiking Idle Benefits

GOP Is Silent On Measure

Weekly Jobless Pay Is Boosted to $47

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although they got an almost-unprecedented silent treatment from Republicans, Ohio Senate Democrats late Wednesday night pushed through a bill for higher unemployment benefits for a longer period.

Final passage of a vastly liberalized unemployment compensation law came 10 hours after the Senate convened. The vote was 19-14 with Sen. Fred Harter (D-Summit) joining 13 Republicans against the bill. It now goes to the House.

As it left the Senate, the bill increases the top weekly jobless benefit from $33 to $47 a week. Present law allows an additional $3 each for two dependents, but the Senate bill allows for three dependents, including a spouse. The bill also increases the maximum benefit period from 26 to 30 weeks.

Republicans tried to send the bill back to committee on grounds the committee had not studied the substitute measure which was presented to the committee only a week ago and recommended to the Senate floor in a matter of minutes. That attempt failed 13-20 on a party-line vote.

Republicans got their dander up when Sen. Charles B. Carney (D-Mahoning), one of the bill's sponsors, told them bluntly: "Go ahead and have your fun. We are willing to stay here until dawn or tomorrow afternoon. The will of the majority will not be thwarted. We are going to adopt our three amendments, we are going to defeat all our yours—and then we are going to pass the bill."

Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), then informed the Democrats it was the unanimous decision of the GOP members to refrain from voting on all Democratic amendments. He charged the bill was being "railroaded" and that the Democrats had not informed the Republicans in advance of the intent of their amendments agreed upon in a three-hour afternoon caucus.

After that, with the exception of two—Sens. Ross Pepple of Lima and Tennyson Guyer of Findlay—the Republicans sat silent. They offered no amendments of their own, refused to vote on the Democratic amendments and failed to participate in debate on the bill itself.

The three Democratic amendments: Reduced from 25 to 20 per cent the amount of his weekly benefit an unemployed worker may earn without having his benefit reduced. Present law sets the limit at a flat $2.

Reduced the proposed benefit period from 39 to 30 weeks. Insured that no person discharged for dishonesty shall be eligible for benefits.

Sen. Edward Dell (D-Butler), a sponsor of the bill, asserted it provides for "reasonable changes long overdue." The law, he added, has been allowed to drag through the years although it originally was intended to give a jobless worker about half his normal pay.

Harter, as the only Democrat opposing the bill, said he agreed with some of its sections, but he added he believes "many of its provisions favor chiselers."

Despite earlier high hopes, a compromise sales tax bill designed to produce 119 million dollars in state revenue in the next two years has, so far, failed to attract enough Democratic votes to get it out of the Senate Taxation Committee.

It was reported copies of the revised bill will be sent to each committee member during the weekend along with a personal appeal from the governor for support.

In a relatively quiet session, the House passed four minor bills and sent them to the Senate, and adopted a resolution congratulating Salem High School's basketball team as runnerup in the Class AA state tournament.

Tear Gas Quells Riot in Prison

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — Five desperate inmates of the Concord Reformatory held 15 hostages for four hours Wednesday night until a wave of state troopers ended their bid for freedom with tear gas and acetylene torches.

One of the quintet, identified as kidnaper Charles (Bull) Martin, 36, held a smuggled gun to the head of a hostage while demanding "We want out."

Correction Commissioner George McGrath said Martin mistakenly "thought he could make it out of there through the front door with the revolver and hostages."

"This was an escape attempt, pure and simple," said Edward S. Grennan, superintendent of the reformatory, which once housed only youthful offenders but now is used for long-term adult prisoners.

Grennan said the leaders of the revolt called him twice by telephone from their temporary stronghold demanding to get out.

Instead, Grennan called in State Police to storm the wing where the rebels were holding the hostages.

Grennan said that in addition to Martin the convicts who caused the wild disturbance were Thomas P. Carlino, 28, kidnaper; Charles Woods, 31, burglar; James Parker, 33, robber; and Peter Makarewicz Jr., 20, who five years ago killed a 15-year-old girl in his town of Norwood.

Authorities said that about 50 other prisoners milled about free of their cells during the uprising but took no active part in it. The five inmates held the hostages—13 guards and two civilians—for four hours before surrendering meekly, their eyes swollen by tear gas.

Their chances of getting out, from the start, were nil. Lt. Col. John C. Blake, executive officer of the state police, heading an assault force of 125 troopers, said when asked if negotiations were considered:

"I never negotiate with anyone; we were here to get them out and restore order."

The troopers drove the malcontents from the first to third floor of a wing of the prison, like soldiers assaulting pill boxes. They opened steel doors with acetylene torches and finally pushed the rebels into an area from which there could be neither escape nor retreat.

Surrenders were accepted only after the prisoners stripped naked. Then they were marched to secure quarters.

THE PETITION, filed with the County Commissioners, asked that the ditch be reconstructed, widened, deepened, straightened, altered, cleaned and repaired.

The ditch starts in Ross County, runs through Pickaway and ends in Fayette County. A joint commissioner board was organized by the three counties involved.

The Auditor of Pickaway County was named clerk of the joint boards and County Engineer Henry McCrady was named chief engineer.

Mrs. Marvinne H. Rhoades, County Auditor, testified as to the proceedings of the boards and that ditch cost estimates were submitted by Elmer Barrett & Associates, a Chillicothe engineering firm.

The defendants named in the New Holland petition numbered 11. They were the three commissioner boards, McCrady and Mrs. Rhoades.

The defendants had no witnesses in their defense and only the Pickaway County Commissioners were on hand for the hearing.

THE PLAINTIFFS argued that state statute sets forth proper procedures to be followed on any ditch improvement and that the joint board had not followed them.

Evidence was presented by the plaintiffs that indicated the joint boards did not designate or retain Barrett as engineer.

The plaintiffs claimed that the proceedings were irregular and therefore were invalidated. They also stated that Barrett was not approved by the three commissioner boards.

Judge Ammer raised the question that an injunction, which the plaintiffs are asking, is an extraordinary proceeding and is granted only when a person has no adequate remedy at law and that denial of the injunction will cause irreparable injury.

Adkins said that if his clients are forced to appeal the ditch proceedings they will have to hire an engineer and legal counsel to defend them.

According to Adkins, this would be irreparable injury to the plaintiffs. County Prosecutor Ray W. Davis, defending the joint boards, said that an appeal will be adequate.

THE HEARING brought out two questions that must be decided by Judge Ammer. One, is the injunction asked for proper proceedings at this stage, and secondly, whether necessary legal proceedings have been followed in the ditch matter.

The joint commissioner boards set April 29 as the date for the final hearing on estimated assessments, proceedings for improvement and claims for compensation and damage.

Red Chinese Claim Tibetan Rebellion Virtually Crushed

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist command in Tibet claimed today it had wiped out the bulk of the Tibetan rebellion and killed, wounded, or taken prisoner nearly 2,000 rebels.

"The army said that the only remaining opposition was from 'a few remnant bandits who have fled to remote mountainous areas.'"

"With the active support of the Tibetan people in those localities," the announcement said, "the troops are continuing to hunt out and mop up the scattered remnants. They will be wiped out in the near future."

The army report, broadcast by the Communist New China News Agency, said that in more than 10 days of fighting the Red troops had captured a vast number of villages, including "all the key points in the border area of the Loka area and in the northern ranges of the Himalaya Mountains."

The Loka area is the main rebel base southeast of Lhasa, the capital. It is Tibet's border area with India and Bhutan.

The Chinese Communists fired an angry barrage of criticism at the Indian government for releasing the Dalai Lama's statement that he left Tibet voluntarily.

The charges were the most serious yet in a rapidly mounting campaign to silence Indian criticism of Communist Chinese actions in Tibet.

The official Peiping People's Daily said "the very act of issuing such a statement, containing wild talk about so-called 'independence for Tibet' and the unbridled attacks on China, show that certain influential figures in India wrongly take the view that China is weak and timid and now is the time to freely exert 'pressure' on China."

At almost the moment the Dalai Lama was saying he fled to India of his own free will, Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai was categorically declaring that he had been abducted.

Nehru left New Delhi today for Mussoorie, where the Dalai Lama has settled after his flight to India.

The two leaders are scheduled to meet Friday. The meeting may prove to be an acid test of Chinese-Indian relations and may help shape the future course of the Tibetan rebellion.

French Scientist Quits Balloon Trip

NEVERS, France (AP)—Strong winds today forced a young French astronomer to give up his balloon flight for a look at the planet Venus after he had soared 42,000 feet.

Andouin Dollfus said the attempt was worthwhile for the scientific data collected even though he fell short of his goal of 82,500 feet. He made a safe landing after six hours aloft.

The adventurous 34-year-old scientist sought to rise into the stratosphere for observations of the earth's atmosphere.

Wright and Werner escaped from work details outside the walls Tuesday and seized Mrs. Louise Gschwend, 54, San Francisco beauty operator who was fishing on a long pier near the prison.

They also seized her companion Doug Harrison, 62.

For six long hours they kept police at bay by threatening the couple. After surrendering, Werner and Wright paid tribute to Mrs. Gschwend's courage.

Werner said the Vacaville institution is "no place for human beings. It's for nothing but nuts."

Bandits Get $49,000 In Three Holdups in Northeastern Ohio

U.S. Fears Iraq Is Lost to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many U.S. officials have about given up hope that the revolutionary government of Iraq can resist Soviet Communist domination.

There is growing fear here that Iraq will soon become a hidden satellite of the Kremlin, if it has not done so already.

Since the Iraqi revolution last July 14, Premier Abdel Karim Kassem has become increasingly dependent on or allied with Communist support.

British and U.S. leaders are reported close to agreement that Kassem has probably gone beyond the point of no return.

The United States policy for dealing with this situation is one of waiting to see what happens. Officials interviewed privately say in effect, "What can any outsider do?"

Authorities are convinced that Egypt's President Nasser, whose goal is to become leader of the whole Arab world, has been behind a couple of attempts to stage some kind of anti-Communist bid for power in Iraq. But he has gotten nowhere.

As between Nasser and Kassem, the United States remains neutral, officials say. Nasser is still not regarded here as a dependable friend.

The concept of Iraq as a "hidden satellite" comes from government experts who believe that Moscow prefers to move into the strategic oil rich area in stages rather than in one great advance.

By this theory the first stage was to break the power of the Western nations in the Middle East, his stage reached a climax with the assassination of King Faisal and other pro-U. S. Iraqi leaders last July 14.

The second phase would be to gain indirect control of a Middle Eastern government as in Iraq.

The third phase would see the establishment of a land bridge. That could only mean trouble of the gravest kind involving the Soviet Union, Iran, Iraq and probably Turkey.

Since both Iran and Turkey are in the Middle East defense Alliance, and Turkey is a member also of NATO, any such trouble probably would involve the great powers on both sides.

Textile Mill Still Uneasy

Gunfire Again Mars Labor Negotiations

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Police and state troopers, outnumbering pickets, escorted a full shift of workers to their jobs at the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills today after another outbreak of violence.

The quiet scene contrasted sharply with Wednesday night when second-shift workers met small arms fire, homemade flares and firecrackers.

About 250 pickets ignored a steady drizzle at the company's two plants to jeer and shout defiance at the departing workers. One picket was struck in the arm by a .38 caliber bullet. Officers said he received first aid treatment at a hospital and was released.

The strikers were angered at the small number of jobs left available to them after the strike apparently was settled last week. When only 30 strikers were taken back Monday, the striking Textile Workers Union of America said it had been misled as to the number of jobs available to its members.

The union said it had about 1,000 members out of the 1,200 workers in the two plants before the strike began Nov. 17.

Wednesday night's violence followed by only a few hours a de-escalation at Raleigh by Gov. Luther Hodges of the handling of the situation by management and the union.

Hodges, who had helped negotiate a settlement last Friday, accused management of misleading him "intentionally or otherwise." Hodges, redfaced and shaking his finger vigorously, said the role of attempting to end the five-month-old strike is "the toughest job I've ever had."

Wooster Bank Is Big Loser

2 Massillon Business Places Victims, Too

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bandits struck three different business places in Northeastern Ohio today, escaping with an estimated total of $49,000.

Biggest haul was made in Wooster where two men carrying snub-nosed revolvers robbed a branch of the Commercial Banking and Trust Co. of $49,000.

Earlier, in Massillon, 22 miles east of Wooster, holdup men took $9,000 in two separate robberies.

Richard Tracy, manager of the Wooster bank, and Mrs. Arlene Hall, a teller, were in the office when the pair of bandits entered.

Sgt. James Wilson of the Wooster police said it has not yet been determined whether another man waited for the pair in a getaway car.

Wilson said the robbers made Tracy hand out money from the cash drawers and then went with him to the vault to get more. They were in the bank five or 10 minutes, Wilson said.

The men told Tracy and Mrs. Hall to stay in the vault for 20 minutes after the holdup or they would be shot.

The North End Branch is at the north edge of the city on Ohio 3.

Wilson said both men were about 45 years of age. One wore a short jacket and gray trousers and the other a gray overcoat and gray trousers, Wilson said.

Victims of the Massillon holdups were a grill and a clothing store, located only a few blocks apart. However, first reports indicated the robberies were pulled by different men.

At 12:40 a. m., three men, carrying revolvers and wearing masks, tied up Charles Drenta, owner of the grill, his wife and three customers before taking $7,000. The money was taken from an upstairs apartment where Drenta's wife was asleep.

At 7:30 a. m., two men posing as customers forced Louis Klein and his wife into a rear kitchen at Klein's clothing store and made off with $2,000 from a cash register. Klein, who is from Canton, later told police that the robbers missed another $2,000 lying on a counter near the register.

Union Army Descendants To Fete 'Reb'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Descendants of Union Army veterans will give a special performance of "Dixie" for Walter W. Williams, the last of the Confederate veterans.

Williams, 116, before he dies wants to hear again the rollicking, tingly tune that still can bring tears to a loyal southerner's eyes.

Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio) said today that, in response to Williams' invitation, the Sons of Union Veterans life and drum corps of Mount Vernon, Ohio, will play for him.

Arrangements are being made, Levering said, to have the Army transport the corps to Williams' home at Franklin, Tex. The corps also plans to make a recording of "Dixie" for him.

Williams is the last surviving veteran of the Civil War, north or south.

Himself a drummer in the Mount Vernon corps, Levering considers the performance planned for Williams especially appropriate for this reason:

This is the 100th anniversary of the composition of "Dixie" by another Yankee, Daniel Decatur Emmett of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

2 Ohio Men Accused Of Fraud in Maryland

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thomas Collette, 25, of Xenia, Ohio, and Edgar Overstreet, 28, of Cincinnati, are each being held in $10,000 bail here on charges of collecting "back veterans taxes" on false pretenses from a Baltimore County farmer. Authorities said the two magazine salesmen bilked Charles Sauter, 69, out of $1,600 by telling him they were government agents and that he was delinquent in paying the "veterans" tax.

Today Is 100th Consecutive 14-Hour Work Day for Ohio Governor DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first 100 days are the hardest. Or so, at least, hopes Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Today is the 100th day DiSalle has been in office—literally. Not once since his inauguration Jan. 12 has he failed to put in a full day's work in the executive chambers.

And by a matter of almost unbelievable coincidence — he will hold his 100th press conference this afternoon.

"It'll just be a day like any other day," the governor remarked. "But I might have coffee and cake for the newsmen at the conference. They've been almost living here, too."

The governor no longer has daily press conferences—but the total is the same as the number of days because, until Feb. 3, he held two each working day.

DiSalle was unable to say how much longer he will keep at his seven-days-a-week, 14-hours-a-day grind. He usually gets at the office at 8 a. m. or a few minutes thereafter, and it's a rare day that doesn't see him still on the job at 10 or 10:30 at night.

The brutal pace apparently hasn't fazed the governor, although he's down 12 pounds from the 208 he packed on his 5-foot, 5½-inch frame 100 long days ago. And it hasn't affected his sense of humor.

One recent morning, when secretary Mildred Cunningham showed up about 8:20 instead of the usual 8, the governor quipped: "When did you start working half-days?"

Actually, DiSalle goes "out of town" every day, since the executive mansion is in suburban Bexley. But only three times has he left Greater Columbus.

He visited Mount Vernon and Newark at the height of the Jan. 21 floods, although he also managed to put in a full day at the office. And last Friday, he "evacuated" to Delaware with his Cabinet in a Civil Defense test.

Even then the governor went prepared. When newsmen who accompanied him were unable to get into a jammed dining room for lunch, DiSalle went to his car and came up with two trays of sandwiches, a mess of hard-boiled eggs, and three pizzas.

"You never can tell about these things," he said, as he passed the food around.

Actually, DiSalle has worked every day, Saturday and Sundays included, since he first declared his candidacy Jan. 23, 1958, except for two weeks right after last November's election.

Then he took off for a short rest in New York and Florida—and even though he has no such plans, Florida is one place he would like to visit right now.

His only son, Mickey, is the proud father of a brand-new Michael Vincent DiSalle, a grandson the governor has never seen.

Mrs. DiSalle went to Jacksonville for the new grandson's birth, but returned to Columbus Wednesday to help the governor "celebrate" his 100th day in office.

"She looks at this job sort of dimly at times," the governor

New Men, New Policies

It had been obvious for weeks that John Foster Dulles would never return to the State Department, which is why his resignation did not come as a surprise. It is just as obvious that another man of his tremendous courage will not be found to succeed him.

But the government will go about its tasks. There is no other way, of course, and national policy cannot depend on one man.

It is safe to say that the policies the U. S. follows in the next few months in international affairs will be heavily dependent upon the leadership given before his illness by Dulles. But by the very nature of human beings, the policies will not be the same.

Cant Spel fer Sour Appels

NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to an old teacher:

Well, Miss Wolfson, I guess a lot of grammar has flown, (flowed, flew)—gone by the bridge since I studied English under you 30 some years ago in old Central High School in Kansas City, Mo.

They were the—those were the—days! Like I say, when I see the kids raised up today I just look at them and ask myself, "Well, who raised them, and what did they have in mind—civilized monsters?"

They do act like they just got out of a flying saucer, blue jeans and spelling and all. They can't spell sour appl, app, apples.

Miss Wolfson, nobody got out of your class then who couldn't spell your apples—over and over again.

The same with "Friends, Romans, countrymen, I didn't just come here to praise him, Caesar was ambitious." It sticks in my head yet.

Miss Wolfson, you made those old days come alive. I could almost see those old Romans, standing so stiff and tall in their togas, and saying all those splendid things before they reached for their knives. Then, slash, crash and another empire had bit the dust.

Kids today don't seem to get the same background. Maybe the classes are too large. Maybe no-body cares.

Sometimes I kind of feel like Hiawatha, alone in his canoe, paddling across a ribbon of moonlight through a purple moor up to the old inn door, with the waters all around and everything mystic. There was an Indian who knew trouble.

Miss Wolfson, after 30 years I of my mind, Hiawatha is still paddling that canoe, and too proud to ask for fringe benefits.

I remember one of the clever things you used to do to get us used to the English language was to have us write little essays. They didn't have to be about big things like life and et cetera, but just something offhand like.

But things like that just don't grow on trees, and it was hard to find a topic. Most of us looked in the book—remember, Miss Wolfson?—and there was a whole list of suggested subjects.

The one that particular appealed to me was this here one about, "The View from my Window," and the minute I saw this suggestion I said to myself, "That's built for me."

We did have one fine window in our house then, and I still wish I could tell you about the things I saw from it.

It isn't eggsakly my fault that 24 of the 25 students in the class all wrote on the same subject—the view from their window.

I still don't hold it against you, Miss Wolfson—that is, the grade you gave me. You must have got awful worn out reading about all those views from all those windows.

Well, for old times sake, I thought I'd write you to say hello. And by the way my old secker-tary has left me and the new girl I hired can't spell fer sour apples, and I thought maybe you could tell me of a book that would set her strait.

Lord knows who teaches the English language today. It is almost as if it was an athema to them, a veritable athema.

Your loving pupil,
Roger

Music Can Gladden Nation

A press release issued by the Boston Symphony Orchestra contained more interesting news than dozens of stories of Hollywood stars and ladies of the night and those mixtures of fact and fancy familiarly known in this trade as "cheese cake."

What the Boston Symphony tells is that during the past decade it has played the works of 31 American composers. This list does not include the thousands of Americans who are writing music for popular purposes. This is highbrow music, the kind that we normally import from Europe.

The Boston Symphony's list of 31 is as follows:

Samuel Barber, Arthur Berger, Easley Blackwood, Ernest Bloch, Aaron Copland, Paul Creston, Henry Cowell, Mabel Daniels, David Diamond, Lukas Foss, Isadore Freed, Alexei Haieff, Roy Harris, Alan Hovhaness, Norman Dello Joio, Peter Mennin, Robert Moevcs, Nikolai Nabokov, Walter Piston, Gardner Read, Wallingford Riegger, William Schuman, Roger Sessions, Leo Smit, Howard Swanson, Alexander Tansman, Alexander Tcherepnin, Ernst Toch, Randall Thompson, Virgil Thomson, Bernard Wagenaar.

Some extraordinarily fine music is written for motion pictures and which already has and may to a greater extent become what is called "good music."

I was thinking of how much, for instance, the background of Dimitri Tiomkin's music does for a picture. Tiomkin is a modest man and likes to thank Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky for his works.

In the two pictures which brought him Oscars, "High Noon" and "The Old Man and the Sea," Tiomkin's music carries the drama to its climax more powerfully and more perfectly than words possibly can. His is the force of a Greek chorus before which actors speak their words while the machinery of fate carries the action forward to its destiny.

In "High Noon" the music at no moment permits the marshal to move from the theme and purpose of the picture which is the moral quality, duty—a quality which in these years seems to have given way before security and safety.

It is not usual for music to be news. It is most often reserved among those esoteric groups who worry about the perfections of conducting or the brilliance of a fiddler. A singing nation may not be a happy nation but it speaks of its joys and sorrows in an idiom that is beautiful and often stirring.

Taken all in all, long-hair and short-hair, symphony and rock-n-roll, the cult of Dixieland jazz and the votaries of Bach and Bartok, factions and feudists, this has become a musical nation.

Let us not be too fussy about what kind of music is at a moment popular. Some of the greatest compositions are based on the popular songs of the people which a master can turn into a force to lift a person into the clouds.

"76 Trombones" may not have the musical quality of Mendelssohn's Wedding March but both really accomplish the same end; they lift the spirit of the listener who can dream of things to come while the music carries him away from the mundane world in which he ordinarily finds himself.

There will be a return of nationalism in the United States, as nationalism has come to every country except ours. And when it is restored, its firm manifestation may be in music, in every form and art of music because we are a musical people. One need only see what hypnotism Arthur Fiedler can put into Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Take an audience of sophisticated youngsters and dowagers who come to Tanglewood in the Berkshires of a summer night to listen to Mozart and Bach and perhaps a Beethoven or a Brahms. Then comes the evening called Tanglewood on Parade and these sophisticates, who can spend hours quarrelling over a cadenza as played by this one or that one, join in the ecstasy of an evening with the popularizer, Arthur Fiedler. No matter how many encores, no matter what he has played, the end is always "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and the audience stands up and cheers. It happens year after year.

The day may yet come when these concerts are opened with "The Star-Spangled Banner," as in Great Britain they are with "God Save the Queen." Then we shall have discovered what music can do for the morale of a nation.

Killer Accused Of Robbing Victim's Body

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A policeman has testified that Ralph Woodgeard robbed the dead body of his brother after allegedly cutting his throat.

Woodgeard, 39, is on trial here for first-degree murder in the slaying of his brother, Orville, 32, Nov. 3.

Patrolman Clyde Grimes of the Moraine Village Police Department testified Tuesday that the defendant took $230 from his brother's wallet and another $270 from a money bag while Orville lay dead.

Authorities said Ralph became enraged after he asked Orville for money and was offered only $2.

Orville was shot five times, but his death was actually caused by his throat being slashed afterwards, a coroner testified.

Another witness, Dr. Henry Luydens, superintendent of Lima State Hospital, said in his opinion the defendant was insane, due to alcoholic hallucinations, when the slaying occurred.

The trial enters its third day today in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court before a panel of three judges.

The Bureau of Narcotics spent $3,780,000 controlling drug traffic in fiscal year 1958.

"I was coming as Cleopatra, but we couldn't get a sitter."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BILL CULLEN REPORTS a character in Beverly Hills likes to walk nude in the rain, clutching a big bar of soap in his hand. "He's crazy, all right," concedes Cullen, "but boy, is he CLEAN!"

A puzzled movie star asked help of a saleslady in an exclusive Fifth Avenue haberdashery shop. "I want a gift of some kind," she lisped modestly, "for a man who already has everything: ME!"

A British scenic designer, in the course of an interview at the Waldorf, expressed a great enthusiasm for the game of squash. "Which," demanded an impish scribe, "do you consider more important: squash or sex?" The designer thought this over solemnly for a moment, then countered with, "Do you mean squash tennis or squash racquets?"

Beware of Hidden Sodium

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Sometimes you can't see the sodium for the salt. Nevertheless, it's now fairly simple for those of you on sodium-restricted diets to keep away from table salt and foods with obvious high sodium contents.

Often sodium is used in preparation of foods. You can't always expect to know when. Here are some examples of hidden sodium:

Baking soda is used to leaven breads and cakes. Sometimes it is added to vegetables in cooking. Of course, sodium bicarbonate of soda is used at times as an aid for indigestion.

Monosodium glutamate, which is sold for home use under various brand names, is used to enhance the flavor of some foods. Restaurants and hotel kitchens often use it. It is used in some canned, packaged and frozen foods.

Brine is used in various foods to inhibit bacteria growth. It is used in cleaning or blanching fruits and in freezing and canning some foods. It also is used for flavor in such foods as sauerkraut, corned beef and pickles.

If you are on a mild sodium-restricted diet, the sodium compounds just mentioned probably are the four you will have to keep a watchful eye out for.

However, if your diet is more restricted, you must also be alert for these:

Baking powder, which is used to leaven quick cakes and breads; disodium phosphate, present in some processed cheeses and quick-cooking cereals; sodium propionate, used in pasteurized cheeses and in some cakes and breads to inhibit mold growth.

Also sodium alginate, which is used in many chocolate milks and ice creams for smooth texture, and sodium benzoate, used as a preservative in some condiments such as sauces, relishes and salad dressings.

Still another is sodium hydroxide, which is used in processing foods to soften and loosen skins of ripe olives, hominy and certain fruits and vegetables. It is used also in preparing Dutch-process cocoa and chocolate, but the amount is insignificant.

Question and Answer

G. S. M.: Could noises in the head be caused by high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, and is there any cure?

Answer: There is a possibility of noises in the head being caused by high blood pressure. The treatment is best determined by your physician.

The World Today

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The West soon may be obliged to accept as a melancholy fact the descent of an iron curtain around the Arab state of Iraq. What to do now?

The answer may be in oil. But there's not much time.

Communism already is a real menace in the Arab East, whose oil and geography are of vast importance to Western economies and defenses. The only sensible approach which seems to suggest itself to the West now, after years of fairly senseless blundering in the area, is to get behind the Arab economies and build them to a point where they will be strong enough to prevent a repetition of what happened in Baghdad.

Arab leaders seem ready for the West to make an intelligent move in this direction. This becomes more apparent each day from the reports of the important Arab League oil congress currently meeting in Cairo.

Unhappily watching Iraq, other Arab leaders seem to be revising their thinking. Perhaps it would be wise for Western policy makers to revise some of their own thinking.

A new wariness has crept into Arab leaders' attitudes with respect to their relations with the West. This was indicated at the oil congress. One instance of it was the cool reception Arab leaders gave a proposition from Saudi Arabia that Arabs should declare their unhindered right to modify oil concession agreements at will.

A year ago this notion would have stirred enthusiasm among Arabs. Now it is being cold-shouldered. The Arab leadership does not appear willing to worsen its business relations with the West at this critical moment. It is in danger enough already from the Communist threat.

Another indication is the reception being given to the proposal of Emile Bustani, the Lebanese industrialist, for an all-Arab effort to lift the area out of its morass of backwardness by common effort. Bustani advanced this proposal more than two years ago. Not much attention was paid to it, possibly because Bustani believes in cooperation with the West.

Now the Arab oil congress takes the proposal quite seriously. Bustani envisions an inter-Arab bank for development, using a certain percentage of the oil states' huge revenues to raise standards in both have and have-not nations.

Egypt's controlled press now welcomes the idea. One newspaper which speaks for Gamal Abdel Nasser hails the proposal as offering great opportunities for "bolstering relations between the oil producing states and the foreign states which import oil." This is an important statement.

It is possible for the West to get behind the plan with a show of enthusiasm. But before it tries to cooperate effectively with the Arabs, it may take account of the awkward and uncomfortable positions of the Arab leaders and show some patience.

Nasser and the Pan-Arab nationalists are out on a limb. They are committed to the notion that Western imperialism has been responsible for all Arab woes. It will be difficult for these leaders now to commit themselves openly to co-operation with Britain and France in a scheme to raise Arab standards.

But the United States could take the lead. Perhaps there are political obstacles, but for Western policy there is only one answer to Arab turmoil: an attempt to ease it by encouraging some measure of stability.

DiSalle, GOP Aide Disagree On State's Financial Status

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—News- men who recently asked Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan), House minority leader, questions about Ohio's financial picture, got another set of answers from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Monday.

DiSalle, who charged Cloud's published answers were not responsive to the questions, gave news men copies of answers he could have given. They went like this:

Q-Do you feel the state has spent more money in the last several years than it has taken in?

Newsman Cites Goal of Press

Profits Not Primary Aim of Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP)—While newspapers must have a profit to stay alive and strong, profit is not and cannot be their primary goal, the president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. said today.

Rather, said ANPA President D. Tennant Bryan, of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch and News Leader, "the primary purpose of the newspaper is to hold up to the eyes of its readers a mirror of their life and the world in which they live."

He added, in a prepared address at the association's 73rd annual convention, "Our single-minded ethic must be to make that mirror as true and undistorted as black ink on white newsprint will permit."

Both friends and foes of newspapers, Bryan said, are bewildered by a business that requires profit on the one hand, but does not work primarily for profit on the other.

"In order to do the job that we should do, we must be independent and self-supporting. Profit is our strength; without it, we can not survive—but profit is not our primary purpose."

In another prepared address, Robert M. White II, of the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger, decried a "heavy continuous attack" on advertising.

"Like any attack on freedom," he said, "any attack on advertising is an attack on the free press of America."

White said that some persons in and out of government are attacking advertising for two main reasons—its success measured in terms of dollars invested, and the all-important role it plays in strengthening democracy with its freedoms.

He said the attack is from two basic directions—by taxation and by regulation—and is growing.

"We have a weapon with which to turn back these attacks. The weapon is truth. Truth is on our side. By itself, alone it will win in time," he said.

Family Asks Recluse To Return Home

GRAND TOWER, Ill. (AP)—A deputy sheriff headed for a secluded wooded area near the Mississippi River today to tell a bearded recluse that his family wants him to return to civilization.

Dewey Walker, a 61-year-old hermit, has lived alone in a home-made log cabin near this small southwestern Illinois town for 15 years. No one ever heard him talk about a family, said Dep. Sheriff Roy H. Varner.

But it was disclosed Tuesday in New Britain, Conn., Walker has a wife, a daughter and two sons. They want him to quit living like a pioneer of a century ago and return to his family.

Walker's family believed he was dead. But a recent Associated Press story in a New Britain newspaper disclosed his whereabouts. They obtained photographs of Walker from a Carbon-dale, Ill., newspaper and were convinced of his identity.

"We want him back," said Walker's daughter, Nellie Gionfriddo. "We're very excited about seeing him. We haven't seen him since 1935 or '36."

"My mother and he argued a lot in those days and so they finally separated."

Walker lives in a one-room log house he built in a roadless clearing. He makes his shoes and grinds his own corn. He grows most of his own food and gets no pension or relief money.

Walker says "I like the feeling of independence."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fowl will be served in many American homes this Sunday.

Chickens, ducks and turkeys all are getting a good play in supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend, with most of the emphasis on chickens. Frying, roasting and stewing birds all are offered since live bird prices are at their lowest level for this time of year since World War II.

March output of broiler chicks was a whopping 182 million, up 20 per cent from a year ago and the April hatch is expected to show an even heavier gain. Ducks are inexpensive right now and turkeys have become a year-round meat.

Ribs of beef also is a popular item this week with prices down 4 to 10 cents a pound in scattered areas.

Leg of lamb and ready-cooked hams are the top attraction in some sections, while steaks generally have been marked up after last week's fare bargains.

Egg prices, already scraping bottom, have been cut another 1 to 4 cents a dozen over a wide area.

Although vegetable prices generally are a shade higher, bargains include potatoes, celery, cooking greens, spinach and iceberg lettuce from Arizona and California fields.

You can get good buys, too, in sweet potatoes, turnips, broccoli, artichokes, eggplant, endive, escarole, romaine and big Boston lettuce, peas, squash and sweet corn. New cabbage also is a good bet.

Asparagus is marked up this week because the big California crop is dwindling and New Jersey's crop is only starting to move in large volume. Higher price tags are reported for cucumbers, beans, onions and beets.

With the citrus season slowing down, these fruits are a bit more expensive.

Anthony Wayne Bridge Traffic Is Curtailed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The city put up barricades Monday to block travel on five feet of each side of the pavement on the Anthony Wayne Bridge.

The concrete deck of the bridge is flaking away.

Trucks are being detoured around the structure over the Maumee River and the speed limit has been cut from 35 to 20 m.p.h.

The barricades leave enough room for four narrowed traffic lanes.

Ohio Negro Leader Dies At Age of 98

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Reverdy Cassius Ransom, a tireless fighter most of his 98 years for the rights of Negroes, died Wednesday at his home in nearby Wilberforce.

A retired bishop in the African Methodist Episcopal Church, he led the successful effort to have Negroes appointed to the New York City police force. That was in 1907.

In his youth he was a cleanup boy in a Cambridge saloon. In adult life he became the acquaintance of presidents and an author, editor, politician and churchman.

He became, in 1937, the first Negro to serve on the Ohio Pardon and Parol Commission. Four years later, President Roosevelt invited him to the White House and appointed him to a Civil Defense committee.

The Rev. Mr. Ransom was a native of Flushing, Ohio. He retired in 1952 as bishop of the Third Episcopal District of his church. The district comprises Ohio, West Virginia and western Pennsylvania.

He was a former president of the Wilberforce University Board of Trustees.

Funeral services Tuesday will be held in the university chapel, with burial in nearby Jamestown.

Sen. Humphrey Abruptly Ends Western Tour

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A test run to check the political temperature of the West came to an abrupt end today for Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) as he flew to Washington.

Humphrey, a potential Democratic presidential nominee in 1960, said he was going to seek reconsideration on the Senate floor today of a bill of rights written into the Kennedy labor bill Wednesday.

But in Washington, observers questioned whether Humphrey's flight to Washington will accomplish its intended purpose. A motion to reconsider was tabled specifically to prevent a change of the vote.

"The only way we can reconsider this bill is that someone who was absent moves to have it reconsidered," Humphrey said.

"We're going to do just that and we're going to teach those Republicans a lesson."

At the Portland Democratic dinner, Humphrey said the responsibility of the nation now is such "that we must act with greatness."

"No people has ever risen to greatness without being called to greatness," he said. "The tragedy of these years is that the voice that should summon us is silent."

While the voice was silent, he asserted, the economy twice in five years has been ravaged by a recession and 4½ million persons are without jobs.

State Board Of Education Said 'Useless'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A member of the State Board of Education, a 23-member elected body, says the group should be replaced with a five-member board appointed by the governor.

John W. Morrison, of Aurora, Portage County, said the board is a "useless government agency."

The former state senator told a reporter in an interview Tuesday that because of its large size and its infrequent meetings—once a month—the board can only rubber-stamp actions recommended by the superintendent of public instruction.

He said a board of only five members, appointed by the governor for four-year terms, would be responsible to the chief executive, and, if adequately paid, could devote more time to the job.

Proposing that the board be abolished, he said it "is not an agency which should be continued in the program of education which is basic to our democratic society."

Unemployment Being Battled In Italy Too

European Nation's Problem Is Similar To That in America

Editors' note: Unemployment is Italy's most stubborn problem, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, says in a dispatch from Rome today. Dawson is touring Europe.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
ROME (AP) — Unemployment is today's most stubborn problem in the United States. It's the biggest bugaboo in Italy, too.

The chief similarities: In both countries there are pockets of joblessness and women are a growing part of the labor force.

The chief differences: 1. U.S. pockets are mostly in industrial areas hard hit by the recession and where recovery has brought greater revival in production than in rehiring. Italian pockets are largely geographic rather than industrial. 2. The U.S. government intervened only in moderation. The Italian government is making heroic efforts — some with the help of American dollars — to alleviate a much more permanent problem.

The industrial recession touched Italy lightly compared to the sharp drop in the United States. Industrial unemployment rose only slightly here. Industrial recovery was quick in the United States; Italian industrial output is rising but at a slow pace.

Chronic unemployment is mostly in the south of Italy, where industry now is making a tentative entry, nudged along by a worried government.

Its chief efforts are two: to rebuild agriculture through power projects, irrigation, and advanced techniques and to get the crowded and impoverished population either into northern Italian factories or into jobs in other countries.

The first calls for training and education, a long, slow process at best.

The second may be helped by the common market. The six member nations — Italy, France, West Germany, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg — have pledged that when it gets fully going laborers can move freely from one country to another.

Northern Europe long has used Italian workers. Italy, for example, was just as concerned as Germany and Belgium when the great flow of American coal to Europe, which gave the American coal industry one of the few shots in the arm in recent years, seemed likely to close down European coal mines. Many Italians in Belgium would have been thrown out of work. The flow has stopped and they're still working.

At present the relation of the jobless in Italy to the total labor force is much like the ratio in the United States at the depth of the recession.

Despite the emigration of 750,000 Italians since 1950 and a steady rise in total employment, unemployment stays around 7 percent of the labor force. The reasons: A slow but steady increase in population; farmers leaving the land to look for factory jobs and the emancipation of women.

Bessie's Appetite Costly to Air Force

OKEMAH Okla. (U) — The curious appetite of Bessie the cow cost the Air Force $178.75.

Rock 'n' Roll Is Condemned By Musicians

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Rock 'n' Roll was being treated like a condemned killer at the biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs today.

It's early end was freely predicted—"and a good thing, too," declared Mrs. Blant Buford of Dallas, Tex., chairman of the group's publicity department.

She and such a noted music authority as Sigmund Spaeth, writer and lecturer, blamed it for killing television's "Hit Parade" program, which they said was ending soon.

Dr. Vera Wardner Dougan of Beloit, Wis., president of the federation, declared: "It was nothing but a beat anyway, and it is just beating itself out."

Their comment followed and supported a report to the convention by Ada Holding Miller of Providence, R.I., chairman of the group's American music section, that Rock 'n' Roll was rocking and rolling itself out of popularity.

This conclusion was based on reports from member clubs, half of which are composed of young people, and on popular numbers in the organization's February "Parade of American Music." They were largely folk music and musical show hits.

Spaeth said reports from music publishers and recording companies also showed Rock 'n' Roll was coming to an end.

"It was nothing but a jungle beat," he said, speaking of it in the past tense. "Perhaps, it did reflect a spirit of our times, but even the kids are dropping it."

A record 1,534,264 acres were reforested in the United States during 1958. Both private owners and government agencies cooperated in planting the new trees.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury and now board chairman of National Steel Corp., said that he hopes the federal government will not intervene in steel-labor contract negotiations scheduled to begin May 5 in New York.

Humphrey told the firm's annual stockholders' meeting he thinks "it would be unfortunate for the government" to intervene in contract talks.

President Eisenhower and other members of the federal government have shown keen interest in the steel industry and the United Steel workers Union's program to work out a new contract. The pact expires June 30.

Humphrey said the American public's buying habits are affected when control and restrictions are placed on any industry. Referring to the steel negotiations, Humphrey said:

"I just hope there will be no occasion for restrictions and that this case will work itself out in an orderly fashion."

The board chairman said steel consumption has been high this year and there is not nearly as much stockpiling as many people think.

National Steel reported record net income of $16,504,090, equal to $2.20 a share for the first quarter of 1959.

In the first quarter of 1958, National had net income of $3,801,426, equal to 51 cents a share.

National Steel is operating at 98 1/2 per cent of capacity, Humphrey said.

Thomas E. Millsoop, National president and chief executive officer, said the firm's plans to build a new finishing mill in the Greater Chicago area will mean steadier production schedules at National's Detroit plants.

The company recently announced plans for finishing mills in the Porter County, Indiana, area and shipment of semi-finished steel to Chicago from its furnaces at Detroit.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Naval Academy will commission 800 officers at graduation ceremonies this June — six of them as second lieutenants in the Army.

A new law permits a certain number of graduates of each service academy to pick any branch of service. Preference in picking Army careers was given midshipmen who served in the Army or are the sons of Army men.

Two of the Army-bound middies are the sons of Army Colonels, but one is the son of an admiral.

National Steel is operating at 98½ per cent of capacity, Humphrey said.

Major TV Networks Planning Few Changes for Next Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major TV networks have baked their entertainment cake for next season. It is the same mixture as before: an extremely light affair. Lining will be added later as numerous special programs are announced. There also will be some plums inserted for the minority of viewers who seek intellectual sustenance.

But the basic prime evening viewing hours between 7.30 and 11 p.m. are pretty well set.

In general, it's difficult for a viewer to find any difference between next season and this season. Some 13 hours of westerns will be on the three networks during the seven evenings of each week. Mysteries, will be second with about 12 hours.

Variety shows will occupy about nine hours, situation comedies seven hours, adventures four. Quiz and panel shows, which two years ago were occupying about 16 hours are away down to seven hours a week.

Regular weekly drama programs thus far scheduled total five hours (and that includes calling "77 Sunset Strip" on ABC-TV a "drama program"). The total amount of drama visible will be raised, however, by special programs, the monthly "DuPont Show of the Month" on CBS-TV, and five "Hallmark Hall of Fame" productions on NBC-TV. "Playhouse 90" will be seen only every other week over CBS-TV, with a new 90-minute program, "Biography," alternating.

On Sunday evenings, ABC-TV starts off, as at present, with "Maverick" and rides the western ranges until a new adventure, "The Alaskans," comes on at 9:30. The CBS-TV Sunday evening schedule looks much the same, except that Jack Benny moves to 10 p.m., alternating each week with George Gobel, a transfer from NBC.

With Steve Allen abandoning his long-time Sunday spot for 10 p.m. on Mondays, NBC-TV will launch a new show, "Comedy Hour." Under present plans the biggest Western night will be Tuesdays, with seven visible, including two new ones.

Transferring Perry Como from Saturday evenings to his new "Kraft Music Hall" program Wednesday at 9, NBC-TV is placing a slew of popular programs back-to-back: "Wagon Train," "The Price Is Right," Como, "This Is Your Life," and the Loretta Young Show.

CBS-TV appears intent on playing space for all its worth with two adventures tentatively entitled "Space" and "Destination Space."

Independent program packagers will continue to do a great deal of production for the networks. Five independents alone are producing 31 series.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Suffer from dysphagia? If so, you may have anything from psychoneurosis to carcinoma.

Translated, that means that if you have trouble swallowing, it may be a symptom of any of several diseases, from nervous disorder to cancer.

And you'd better head for your family doctor, Dr. Harvey J. Mendelsohn, assistant professor of thoracic surgery at the Western Reserve University School of Medicine, said today.

Mendelsohn spoke at the annual Ohio State Medical Assn. meeting here.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—An apparent low bid of $570,000 was submitted by the F. H. Brewer Co. of Lancaster, Ohio, for a government project of Moxahala Creek at Roseville, Ohio, south of Zanesville. The work consists of straightening and improving the channel for 7,300 feet, constructing an earth levee along one bank and building a railroad bridge.

Broncos Win At Greenview

Ashville Holds First in DVL

The Ashville Bronco baseball nine won its eighth straight game and moved into first place in the Darby Valley League with a 4-0 verdict at Greenview yesterday.

Bronco pitcher Dick Wilcox hurled hitless ball until the seventh inning when Seller poked a single through the box. It was the only bingle allowed by the Ashville hurler.

Wilcox added his own cause with a two-run homer in the fourth frame. Additional hitting help came from Jim McNeal and Jay Gregg, each with a double.

In all the Broncos collected seven safeties, with Gregg going two for four to lead the way.

WILCOX remained in control, fanning six and walking two. Leach, charged with the loss, whiffed five and passed two.

Ashville accounted for single runs in the first and third innings and got the final two in the fourth.

Coach Russ Gregg's Broncos now retain sole possession of first place in the DVL with a 4-0 record. Mt. Sterling is second at 3-1.

The Broncos also are undefeated in Pickaway County Tournament play. Their only loss during the season was to Walnut.

Jackson Takes Raiders, 11-0

Jackson smashed 18 hits to post an 11-0 win over Atlanta yesterday in a Pickaway County Baseball Tournament contest. The game was played at Williamsport.

Jerry Brigner of Jackson allowed only one hit in racking up the victory. Yates was the loser.

O'Conner was the hitting star for Jackson, collecting four hits in four trips. Two of his bingles were doubles, Marshall and Chester also had two-baggers for the winners and teammate Walters was three for four at the plate.

Brigner fanned 19 and walked four, while Yates whiffed nine and walked two.

THE WINNERS scored five times in the third frame, five again in the fifth and one in the sixth. Atlanta's only safety was a single by Tarbill.

Jackson, advancing into the tourney semifinals, will meet Scioto for its next test.

Softball League Plans Meeting

Officials of the Circleville Night Softball League will meet Sunday, to complete plans for the coming season here. The session is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. in the Modern Woodmen's Hall in the Masonic Temple on S. Court St.

Mike Brown, league president, said business would center on completing schedules and other important matters. The meet is open to all softball enthusiasts.

Webb Is Victor, But Future Dark

CHICAGO (AP) — Slashing Spider Webb has spun himself into a corner as far as the middleweight title is concerned.

Webb won his 33rd victory against only 4 defeats Wednesday night with a fourth-round technical knockout over Neal Rivers, but it got him nowhere in his pursuit of Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound championship.

Webb carved Rivers into bloody submission in 1:49 of the fourth round in their scheduled TV 10-round.

With mystery surrounding Robinson's future plans concerning a middleweight title defense, Webb apparently must sit out in the bleachers and wait for something to happen.

Littler Is Favored In Las Vegas Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Las Vegas' most respected sports event, the $40,000 Tournament of Champions, gets underway today with a crack field of 26 golfers.

The betting favorite in the 72-hole, seventh annual event was Gene Littler of San Diego, who captured the $10,000 top money on successive years starting in 1955.

Latest figures on Littler were 5-1, while the "morning line" on Art Wall Jr., recent Masters champion, and Arnold Palmer, the 1958 Masters ruler, quoted at 6-1.

Cary Middlecoff and Billy Casper Jr. the latter runner-up here last year, were listed at 8-1.

Officials of the Circleville Night Softball League will meet Sunday, to complete plans for the coming season here. The session is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. in the Modern Woodmen's Hall in the Masonic Temple on S. Court St.

Mike Brown, league president, said business would center on completing schedules and other important matters. The meet is open to all softball enthusiasts.

Webb Is Victor, But Future Dark

CHICAGO (AP) — Slashing Spider Webb has spun himself into a corner as far as the middleweight title is concerned.

Webb won his 33rd victory against only 4 defeats Wednesday night with a fourth-round technical knockout over Neal Rivers, but it got him nowhere in his pursuit of Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound championship.

Webb carved Rivers into bloody submission in 1:49 of the fourth round in their scheduled TV 10-round.

With mystery surrounding Robinson's future plans concerning a middleweight title defense, Webb apparently must sit out in the bleachers and wait for something to happen.

Grid Coaches Eye Clinic At Ohio State

Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes has announced the program for the Buckeyes' two-day high school coaches' clinic, to be held on the campus Friday and Saturday May 1-2. More than 1,000 coaches are expected to register, approximately one-half this number already having responded to invitations.

Visiting speaker will be Darrell Royal, head coach of the University of Texas. Royal, formerly at Mississippi State and the University of Washington, will speak on both offense and defense and will appear both Friday and Saturday.

Hayes has selected as his subject "Place and Function of the Football Coach in the Sputnik Era." Clive Rush, who has returned to the Buckeye staff after a sojourn to Oklahoma, will speak on the Sooners' Multiple Offense.

Gordon Larson, new addition to the staff from Marion Harding High School, will talk on "Pass, Trap, Draw Offense." Ed "Bo" Schembechler has been assigned "Teaching, Development and Measuring Improvement of the Individual Player." Lylal Clark will talk on "Defensive Techniques and Comparison of Various Defenses." Freshman Coach Ernie Godfrey will talk on place-kicking.

ALL SESSIONS will be held in St. John Arena.

Coaches will attend the clinic banquet Friday evening, May 1, in the Ohio Union. Principal speaker will be Donald C. Power, of New York, former member of the university board of trustees and athletic board. Power, who holds law and master's degrees from the university, is president of the General Telephone Co.

An annual intra-squad game in the Stadium Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. will conclude the clinic.

Merchants Win Practice Tilt

The Circleville Merchants earned a 5-1 decision over General Electric in a practice softball game at Ted Lewis Park last night.

Pitchers Jack Hix and Bill Smith combined for the Merchants to hurl a no-hitter. Bill McKinney twirled for GE.

The Merchants' hitting attack was paced by Catcher Carl Bumgarner who poked a triple.

The Merchants are scheduled for another practice test here at 8 p. m. Friday with a team from Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Waddell Named Cage Coach at Greenfield

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Paul Dean Waddell is the new head basketball coach of Greenfield McClain High School. A member of the school faculty and coaching staff the past three years, he was appointed Wednesday to succeed Roderick Thomas, who resigned.

Mike Brown, league president, said business would center on completing schedules and other important matters. The meet is open to all softball enthusiasts.

Darby Records 11-6 Win Over Deers

Darby advanced into the semifinals of the Pickaway County Baseball Tournament with an 11-6 win over Williamsport yesterday on the Jackson diamond.

Lynn Sheets recorded the win while David Myers took the loss. Sheets was relieved by Tommy Walters and Myers was removed in favor of Donnie Steinhauer and Reed Anderson.

The hitting fest saw the Deers register eight hits to Darby's nine. Walters was the Trojans hitting star with 3 for 5, including two doubles.

Anderson captured hitting honors for Williamsport with 2 for 4, including a triple. Pitcher Sheets also knocked a triple.

MYERS AND Ebenhack poked two-baggers. After Darby took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, Williamsport went ahead 4-1, before the Trojans tied up the ball game in the bottom of the fourth inning with a three run outburst.

Sheets struck out 11 batsmen and issued one walk for the victory. Reliever Walters fanned six men. Myers whiffed four opponents and walked six.

Steinhauer struck out two men and Anderson fanned two. Darby now sports a 7-0 slate. It will meet Ashville Friday afternoon for the right to play in the finals.

Riser's Given Seven Day Suspension

Riser's, a South Bloomfield tavern, was given a seven-day suspension yesterday for violation of liquor laws by the Ohio Department Board of Liquor Control.

William Riser, owner of the tavern, was accused of selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday. His suspension will begin May 5 and end at midnight on May 11.

Riser's citation was issued by Department of Liquor Control agents.

Citations to appear before the Ohio Board of Liquor Control were issued to 126 permit holders for 173 alleged violations of the liquor laws during March, according to a monthly enforcement report released today by Director Richard C. Crouch, Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

Enforcement agents, under Enforcement Chief Ivan W. Smith, also confiscated two stills, one in Mahoning County and one in Scioto County.

In other actions during March, agents made 79 raids and 149 arrests for liquor law violations. Of those arrested, local courts convicted 124 and levied penalties totaling $13,645 in fines and 8,240 days' imprisonment.

The Ohio Board of Liquor Control during the month heard cases of 74 permit holders charged with 140 violations.

Decisions issued by the board included the following suspensions: one 70-day suspension, one 56-day suspension, one 42-day suspension, three 35-day suspensions, four 28-day suspensions, fourteen 21-day suspensions, twenty-three 14-day suspensions, and eleven 7-day suspensions.

Five cases were dismissed, no penalty imposed in four cases, and no decision rendered in seven cases.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Nip It in the Bud Now!

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine asked me to keep her two-year-old child while she went on a trip to "see her sick mother"—she said. When she got back she never mentioned her mother but told me how much fun she had with a soldier she met there. She gave this soldier MY name and address and now letters are coming addressed to me on the outside but when you open the envelope there is another one inside, sealed and addressed to her. I have no intention of helping a marrie! woman carry on an affair like this. How can I keep out of it?

NO GO-BETWEEN
DEAR NO GO: Tell your neighbor that you want no part of this monkey business and if any more letters come for her, addressed to you, you'll return them to the sender.

DEAR ABBY: Can you hold a man responsible for what he says on his wedding night? My husband made all sorts of promises to me and never kept any of them. The minor ones like taking over the payments on my car did not hurt me so much, but he said he would never love anyone else but me, and he's been seen all over town with other girls. Can you help me?

MARRIED SEVEN MONTHS
DEAR MARRIED: More important than what he "said" on his WEDDING NIGHT are the vows he took on his WEDDING DAY. You can hold him responsible, but you'd better start thinking seriously about how you can hold him, period.

DEAR ABBY: My best girlfriend and her boyfriend broke up after school at 3:30 and at 4:00 o'clock he asked me to go steady. I told him I would have to ask my mother and he should call me after supper. He called me at 7:00 p. m. and I told him I couldn't talk my mother into it yet but if he waited until tomorrow I would have the answer for him. In the meantime, my girlfriend called me up and told me to hurry up and get permission because she had a chance to go steady with another guy, but she promised her old boyfriend she wouldn't leave him with noboddy. I can't get my mother's permission to go steady and my girlfriend wants to change steadies, so what am I supposed to do?

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: Tell your girlfriend if she wants to change steadies to go ahead but she has no right promising her old boyfriend and asking you to be it.

What Teenagers Want To Know

How Can I Get Him (or Her) To Notice Me?

There's a good chance that anyone who doesn't want to be noticed is either a pickpocket or an ant at an anteater's picnic. We WANT people to notice us. Especially people like HIM—or HER.

How to turn the trick without wearing Christmas tree lights in your hair? Lend me your ears, dears!

Girls: Start with some "don'ts"...

DON'T eat your heart out over Ricky Nelson. This is like trying to bring down a B-52 with a b.b. gun. Frustrating! And that's what you ask for when you pick a target clear out of your range....

Disappointment and even heartache. Don't torture yourself with dreams that can never come true.

Don't overrate snappy and expensive clothes in your quest for popularity. Take a good look around you. Are the most sensational girls the ones with the most fabulous wardrobes?

Negative!

Now here's your biggest and most important "positive..."

Do develop a pleasing personality. It's the key to popularity. Now just wait up a minute. I know. "You have to be beautiful to be really popular!" You're moaning. Who said so?

If you really believe that you'd be popular if it weren't for your acne or the bands on your teeth, look around you and start counting those who have 'em and still maintain a top popularity rating.

I can't stress that smile too strongly. Wear it! It's more dazzling than diamonds. You'll be noticed!

Boys, here are a few negatives for you:

Don't talk the loudest...

Don't drive a car the fastest...

Don't collect the latest dirty jokes for repeating any old time, any old place and in any young company!

One final tip for both sexes. Learn to be good, or even tops, in something. Not everyone can be a first-rate athlete or a first-rate student, but everyone can excel in something—dancing, baseball, wrestling or arts and

U.S. Security Policy Is Rapped

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An Ohio congressman, speaking at a meeting of stockholders of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Pittsburgh, said Tuesday this country's mutual security program "is verging on sheer idiocy."

The speaker was Rep. Wayne Hays, a Democrat of Flushing, Ohio.

He said that "apparently we have lost the ability, if we ever had it, to profit by experience..."

We put before the revolution almost 60 million dollars of arms into Iraq, arms which now will, from all indications, be used against us if a showdown comes in the Near East."

America needs some bold new concepts, Hays said, and "Unless we come up with them, it may be too late."

Debate of Great Import; Who Is 'King of Jungle'?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Just who is the king of the jungle, anyway? Ever since the early movies, there has been a Tarzan. Whether it was Elmo Lincoln, Johnny Weissmuller, Buster Crabbe, Herman Brix (Bruce Bennett) or Lex Barker, he ruled the jungle with interference only from an occasional lion, rhino, etc.

Now it's Tarzan vs. Tarzan.

One film company has been in Africa shooting "Tarzan's Greatest Adventure" with Gordon Scott as star. And Denny Miller is starring as "Tarzan, the Ape Man" on MGM's Lot 3. The explanation is evidence the movies are still a rough and tumble business.

Sy Weintraub took over the Tarzan series from its longtime producer, Sol Lesser, and launched a talent hunt for a new Tarzan to succeed Scott. Then he learned MGM intended to re-film the first of the Weissmuller-Maureen O'Sullivan films, "Tarzan, the Ape Man."

So Weintraub called off his search and convinced Scott to resume his loincloth despite his intention to seek less naked roles. Money talks in this jungle.

I dropped out to MGM to see the latest (No. 12) ape man and found him to be the neanderthal type. In the picture, that is. The son of a UCLA professor, Denny Miller is no dope. He is smart enough to know that acting can be precarious.

"I hope to get my degree in physical education this summer," he remarked. "So I can always become a coach if my acting career blows over."

I asked him if he worried about being typed as the jungle king. "No," he replied. "I understand that MGM owns only two more of the Tarzan stories, so there couldn't be much of a series. I've done other roles. I had a bit in 'Some Came Running,' though you'd have to look pretty fast to see me. The part I'd like to do is Li'l Abner in the film version."

He's got the build for it. His 212 pounds are distributed on his 6 feet 4 inches with a sculptor's art.

Pearl Buck, who wrote the novel, "The Good Earth," was born in 1892.
